

Rocks of Vermont!

MARBLE

Marble Bridge, Proctor, VT

- * Also Known as Calcium Carbonate Marble is one of Vermont's most important rocks.
- * Marble is formed from the metamorphosis of dolomite or limestone.
- * Since marble's harder than dolomite and limestone it's a good choice to use for buildings, countertops, floors, even bridges.
- * Marble is a metamorphic rock since it's formed from another rock.

